

Self-service Kiosk Range

Adaptable to a wide variety of applications

Goldpac's fully automated self-service kiosks allow organisations to cater to various consumer needs at their own convenience. From the issuance of payment and social welfare cards to marriage certificates and government documents, these self-service solutions are suitable for a diverse range of industries.

This growing range can help to increase service availability, and reduce manual workloads and in-branch traffic to enhance overall efficiency and consumer satisfaction.
